

MUSICAL GAMESMANSHIP

The room looks like a child's dream. There, much bigger than life—on floor, walls and tabletops—are all the shapes of music. And the child who enters is drawn into another world—a world of music for all the senses.

The studio, high above Carnegie Hall, is the New York lab and demonstration workshop of Madeline Carabo-Cone. Adapting the methods by which she taught herself music, she harnesses the child's natural energy, his love of jumping, eating, owning, touching and making noise.

As each child arrives, he is presented with a grab bag. From it he pulls his note. The sound of it is given his name and he "owns" its location. The kind of note he is (half, quarter, whole), is painted on his paper hat, and he wears a musical staff showing where he is. Class time is spent playing games—the games every child knows, but adapted for music. One is called "What's My Line." When a note is played on the piano, the child who is that note runs to his place on the staff. Another is a marching game. If the child is a whole note, he takes one big step while swinging his arms four times; if he's a half note, he swings his arms twice.

Even snack time is filled with musical games. Sitting at a table covered by a musical staff tablecloth, their food becomes music. Cookies are notes and pretzel sticks make the cookies half or quarter notes.

These days Mrs. Carabo-Cone spends much of her time lecturing, teaching teachers her methods. She feels one of the great virtues of her system is that underprivileged children can learn as quickly as children from more advantageous homes. They are all learning a new language, that of music. And the skills they learn—concentration, perception and concept formation—help them in all their studies in school.

This Week's PICTURE SHOW by AP Photographer Ota Richter

As one child hits a note on the piano, Mrs. Carabo-Cone leads others to the proper line.

On this day Jimmy Lawler is a whole note on "E." He has just drawn it on the wall staff to show where he will be.

As her note is played, Nancy Poundstone recognizes it and raises her hand.

On a grand staff tacked to the floor, the class identifies the note played.

Standing on cut-out figures of their notes, the children get ready to sing and move to the simple musical theme they represent.

Youth Beat

THE NATIONAL REPORT ON WHAT'S HAPPENING

ON-KEY OFF-KEY VACATIONS GROWING: This summer over 140,000 young people will strum, blow, bang and beat musical instruments (including vocal chords) in some 300 happy harmony camps coast to coast, staffed by 9,000-plus music teachers. This new note is being struck by U.S. music camps, an idea wistfully sprouted 15 years ago by a handful of musicians. In 1952, most of this musical merriment will be created by teen men and girls (though preteens and collegians also flock to this vacation tune tooting). On summer dog days, almost every shape and size of musical instrument will be taught, going up and down the scale from Bach to Beatles—string, woodwind, brass ensembles... orchestras... concert bands... marching bands... as well as instruction in individual instruments, folk singing or other musical study. The melodious camp season lasts from one to eight weeks... costs from $20 up to $100 a week... and usually mixes sports and fun with tune tutoring. If you feel an urge toward this do-re-mi kind of vacation... check with the director of your music department or nearby college.

MORE QUICK FROZEN FACTS TO SINK TEETH IN: Only a few years ago (mom will remember) guys away from home dreamed of mom's apple pie. Unlikely today... because guys now are used to loading up on them, quick-frozen. Mom may feel guilty about this, but you don't. Teen shoppers favor frozen food purchases... not just anything... you're selective and, at the same time, adventurous. For the latest year there's full data (1965), frozen food consumption throughout the United States rose 17 per cent—which meant on the average a total of 60 pounds per person. Biggest jump was in frozen meats, next in prepared foods, then juices and concentrates (you gurgled down the biggest gallonage of these). You devour your mighty share of arctic tidbits at the five big bashes you average yearly in your home and the two small informal ones each month (and at family meals that tend to pick up your frozen food fancies). Some random, quick-frozen facts about your average icy intake: 39 per cent of you go for frozen meat pies; 40.7 per cent dessert-type pies; 47 per cent fish that's frozen; 35 per cent frozen duck; and 59.5 per cent for high-toned quick-frozen rock Cornish hen. You're building up quite an eating cool in the frozen-food field.

HOW TO MOP UP TELL-TALE MESSES: Supposing two of you go out... he is decorated with an adhesive bandage... she with lipstick... both drink soft drinks (sloppily!). Some hours pass and stains from each of these things get generously smeared on. Here's the solution for each of these messes: the adhesive goo—apply kerosene, then wash in warm suds (so, what if he smells like an outboard motor?); lipstick—soften in glycerin, then launder in hot suds (equally effective for cheek or shirt collar); soft drinks—since even the colorless ones tend to turn brown, soak with cold water or half water and alcohol, then rub with glycerin... later launder in suds. Presto! all gone!

TO DATE OR NOT TO DATE: Depth studies of "average" and "normal" boys in a suburban Chicago high school by Dr. Daniel Offer come up with the following dating patterns (how do you, or guys you know, compare?). By the time high school freshman year had ended 45 per cent hadn't gone out with girls; by the junior year 77 per cent were dating; and by the end of the senior year 95 per cent were. Dr. Offer finds that a myth "is being perpetuated by the public and lay magazines about the appalling increase in dating and sexual behavior among high school students." He finds students he studied "are functioning well within their culture and seem to be able to cope with stresses and strains of their lives." The students agreed that most arguments with their parents had occurred during seventh and eighth grades. During high school there was "a relative lack of rebelliousness against parents or society" in this group. But, one thing the parents of the boys weren't aware of—the teenage guys felt one or the other of their parents understood them... almost never that both did.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

Miss Marilyn Kate Knowles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Parker Knowles of Duback, La., and Jackie Wallace White, son of Mrs. Trudie White of Bossier City, La., and L. N. White of Shreveport, were married at 7 p.m. March 11 in a candlelight ceremony at the Bossier City Missionary Baptist Church. A reception followed at the church. Rev. Roy Chapman officiated. The music was presented by Mrs. Judy Caplinger, organist. Given in marriage by Wallace Brown, a friend of the family, the bride wore a street length dress of bonded crepe with empire waist and a rounded neckline with a lace overdress. Her illusion veil was held in place by satin roses. She carried a Bible covered with white satin and carnations. Miss Jo Ann McClure of Bossier City was bridesmaid.

Mrs. Harold Sisso of Hope, Ark., brother in law of the groom was best man. Ushers were Lenell Barnett and George Denmler. The couple are residing in Bossier City, Louisiana, where they are both employed.

Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Beryl Anthony, Jr. of El Dorado announce the arrival of their second daughter on Wednesday, March 15th. She has been named Lauren Foster Anthony. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Foster of Hope and Mr. and Mrs. Beryl Anthony of El Dorado.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—"I'm going back on the high wire because a friend asked me to, and because—well, I like to hear the applause as much as anyone."

This was how Karl Wallenda explained why he is returning to circus performing at the age of 62. He will again be part of the famed "Flying Wallendas" during the engagement here of the Dobritch International Circus. But then he plans to retire once more.

"My friend Walter Cronkite accused me of being another Sarah Bernhardt; she made farewell tours for 13 years," laughed Karl, the wiry, German-born scion of the aerialist family.

After 40-odd years on the high wire, Karl quit the act last fall. He explained: "My daughter Carla and her husband and brother-in-law could do everything that I could do, and I felt I wasn't being useful any more. Besides, I was getting older and perhaps I wasn't as alert as I used to be."

His manner belies that. Returning to the circus at the request of owner Al Dobritch, Wallenda seems as sharp as ever.

"After you get over 30 feet in height, you lose the perspective and it doesn't matter how high you are," he remarked, almost convincingly.

Karl was born into the circus; six generations of Wallendas have thrilled audiences in Germany and the United States. Karl "wanted to be somebody," and he pushed the act to new frontiers of danger, bringing it to the U.S. bigtime in the 1920s. The most important development in the act came at Madison Square Garden on April 5, 1928.

"We had always worked at 60-70 feet, with a net," he said. "But when we came into the

Allergies —

Your Personal Poisons

Sick Child Is Branded By 'Allergic Shiners'

By Allergy Foundation of America

As the doctor enters the room his first glance reveals the history of the child before him.

There are all the characteristics written on the face. Dark circles under the eyes betray the constant cold-type symptoms of chronic nasal allergy which causes swelling of the mucus membrane of the nose and sinuses. The child is breathing through his open mouth, bypassing the stopped-up nose.

To the doctor, these "allergic shiners" are an unmistakable sign. The child is suffering from a hay fever allergy.

The doctor sets about the task of rescuing him. Antihistamines or other drugs can give quick relief; skin tests given with essences of known allergy-producing allergens can identify the offending substances by the reddened spots only these produce on the skin. Then desensitization can proceed; with medicine and air-conditioning, perhaps, keeping the patient comfortable as possible when necessary during the treatment.

Had this child's condition been neglected, the story would have been far different. The hay fever paves the way for further infection including sinus trouble and hearing loss. One of three hay fever victims can expect to develop asthma in time.

There is no season for a child's hay fever. In the spring there can be an epidemic among those sensitive to tree pollen. Summer's hay fever, coinciding with the release of grass pollen, tells its prey with the second onset. Fall hay fever, when ragweed pollen contaminates the air, engulfs an even larger group. And not to be overlooked is a year-round nasal distress arising from house dust.

Most serious of the allergic diseases of childhood is asthma. It strikes quickly and the labored breathing, particularly in small babies, calls for emergency treatment and frequent admission to a hospital.

In the past, such a child sufferer was often doomed to near-invalidism, bedridden and needing constant care. Hopefully, asthma experts are seeing signs on the horizon that carefully controlled exercise offers promise of breathing rehabilitation.

They're still amazed by a tag football team of 13 Denver asthmatic children, gingerly put together in an experimental program, which progressed so fast during the season that the boys were champs of the eight-team Chamber of Commerce league—undefeated.

BILINGUAL CHILDREN
MIAMI (AP)—A second public school is going bilingual in this city with a large colony of Cuban exiles.

Pupils at Central Beach Elementary School, which is evenly divided between native speakers of Spanish and English, will receive instruction in all subject areas in both languages starting with the fall term. The program starts at kindergarten level. The idea is to make all pupils bilingual.

HELEN HELP US!

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

adults conduct themselves.—D.I.T.

Dear Dr. Reporters "snipe" to get good stories. The famous with the rest of Helen Help Us!, top they're targets for pot-shots and they prepare for them with crack-pot retorts. This is simply a matter of publicity. Don't take it seriously.—H.

Dear Helen: I love this boy, but he doesn't care what happens to me. I'll have his baby in a few months. When I told him, he said if I try to pin him down, he'll deny it, and if I force him to marry me he'll make my life miserable. Yet he wants me to give up the baby and come right back to him again. The crazy thing is I know has no deadlines, whereas my I'll do it. What am I anyway—folks are very strict and so I M.F. am always in hot water.

Normally, steadies in our school go out Wednesday, Friday and Saturday nights and Sunday afternoons, and they also go to the local sweet shop after school. My folk's won't let me out on Wednesday night as my grades aren't too high. I can only be out till midnight on week-ends. If I'm late, I get grounded. That's much too early for Kathy.

She gets mad when I have to break a date, so I sneaked out one Saturday so as not to disappoint her. My Dad was furious. I was defiant... and I got my hide tanned: the first spanking I'd had since I was 13. Further grounding made me miss a big dance, and Kathy went anyway, with another guy, which didn't make me too happy.

She gets mad if I get held up at school and can't go to the sweet shop. Instead of waiting, she goes anyway. I got grounded one day last week and Kathy said I should stand up to my father as his curfew was much too strict. I made the mistake of telling her what happened last time, and she called me "immature."

I think I am losing her. I heard she's going out with another guy occasionally, though we're still going steady. I still like her, but I don't want to be constantly in the doghouse for being late, and I can't get home on time if I'm with Kathy. Can I help it if my folks are so strict?—MISERABLE

Dear M: You can't change parents by rebellion (and, really, they aren't all that strict—just sensible), but you MIGHT consider changing girlfriends. Maybe I'm wrong, but from here it appears she has too little too gives, too much too take, and a great lack of understanding. Could be she's spoiled by popularity.—H.

Dear Helen: The way I understand it, grown-ups are supposed to set examples for us. I was just reading over my scrapbooks of newspaper articles on singing groups, and I came across a couple of press conferences with the Beatles.

Helen, those grown-up reporters asked dumb, uninteresting, inappropriate questions. Then when the Beatles replied in the same vein, they put them down. Or they'd ask trick questions to get them on the spot. No wonder Paul McCartney said, "In America they hold everything against you."

You can sense a bit of jealousy in the questions, too. I've passed the age of going crazy over singers, but I'm writing this as a teenager who is sometimes disappointed in way

Dear M: You're a spineless little fool, dear and I'm sure the counselors at the home for unwed mothers will make you see this. Don't throw away your life on a worthless no-good. Surely you like yourself better than that!—H.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP TV-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—There comes, apparently, a time in the life of every maker of actuality programs for television when he feels he must do something about the American Indian and the bad deal he was dealt by our pioneering grandfathers.

NBC's "Project 20" Thursday night used its characteristic story-telling technique—archives material including old pictures—to show once again how the Indian of America's fertile Great Plains was shoved aside by the white arrivals, their buffalo herds decimated, the good lands expropriated.

The familiar story was hardly helped by the technique—purposeful prose of the narration on top of the old pictures.

At the outset, these pictures of Indian faces—fierce, gentle, sad, angry, handsome, ugly, painted, scarred—plus film of the landscape, were interesting. But an hour was far too long for so much of the same thing.

Three of the brightest talents of the Broadway musical stage—writers Betty Comden and Adolph Green plus composer Jule Styne—slapped together a musical fantasy which was Thursday night's offering on ABC's "Stage 67."

Called "I'm Getting Married," it was the story of a young couple on the verge of matrimony when the course of true love is detoured by the boy's sudden promotion.

Anne Bancroft—an offbeat choice for comedy, song and dance—played the girl who is frightened into nightmarish fantasies consisting of hysterics broken by occasional snatches of song. Dick Shawn, perhaps aware of the weakness of his material, came on pretty strong as the boy in the case.

There were five or six musical numbers, none of which lingered beyond the final commercial. All in all, it just wasn't one of the series' happy hours.

Recommended weekend viewing: Tonight—"Anastasia," NBC, 9:30-11 EST, Lynn Fontanne and Julie Harris in a drama about the lost daughter of the czar of Russia.

Saturday—"America's Junior Miss Pageant," NBC, 8-9 p.m., finals live from Mobile, Ala.

THE COSTUME WILL LEAD THE PARADE this Easter and it can be found in many price ranges. Washable seersucker of Arnel and nylon by Nan Leslie (left) features a sleeveless, low-waisted dress. The top is in dark-on-white stripes. The box-pleated skirt reverses the colors and direction of the stripes. Short-sleeved, two-button jacket has a round collar of dark stripes and a white bow. Costume suit (center) by Matlin combines a lightly shaped dress and slim jacket with huge patch pockets in Anglo's lightweight gabardine. The great Trigrere designed the three-piece costume (right). The gold-buttoned jacket shelters a long-sleeved, saucer-dotted blouse. The skirt's inverted pleat gives a culotte effect. Anglo gabardine in soft ivory is the fabric used.

Except The LORD Build The HOUSE They Labor In Vain That Build It

HAVE

that is the cry of the multitude. Today we join the happy throngs around the earth as we shout together, "Hosanna!" Whatever the morrow may hold of suffering, today we declare to the world "Christ has come." Because we are in His company, we know that God ultimately will be sovereign over all the world. We are confident that goodness is stronger than evil. We are sure love will triumph over hate. Whatever a Friday of crucifixion may bring of temporary defeat, we know life will triumph over death, and the Christian way will resolve itself supremely in the final destiny. Then Palm Sunday is a day to celebrate and set up our banner of hope. "For right is right as God is and right the day must win." This hope will convert, for us, spiritual defeat into eternal victory.

Yes In The Church
The Church Is You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service in humanity. Be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

Too often we are inclined to think that anybody who spends a dollar for advertising does it from a purely selfish standpoint. But here, public-spirited, God-worshiping people, are paying each week to insert in this paper a full page, from which they will draw no quick response nor prompt sale. These people are good and humble business men — We owe them our gratitude.

YOUR DENTAL HEALTH

Removable or Fixed Braces Decision for Own Dentist

By WILLIAM LAWRENCE, D.D.S.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—My problem is buck teeth. I am in my 20s and ashamed to wear braces. I wouldn't mind wearing them at night, though, if that would help. What would you suggest?

A—Removable appliances are often used to straighten teeth, and they can be worn at night. It's impossible to know whether this technique could help you; your orthodontist would have to make the decision. In many foreign countries removable teeth straightening devices are used in preference to fixed braces.

But before you do anything rash, remember Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and her classic buck teeth. She probably always hated them and longed to have nice straight teeth. They were finally knocked out in an auto accident and replaced with those "nice straight ones." But she was never quite the same after that. Those beautiful buck teeth were an important part of her charm.

Q—I always thought children didn't have to start brushing their teeth until they were three to five years old. Now some say to start at two years. Which is right? It would be some joke to try to get my 2-year-old to brush by herself.

A—As soon as your child gets teeth, those teeth will collect food debris, and they must be cleaned. At a young age, an easy and efficient method is to wipe the teeth with cotton swabs. When they get older (there's no set age), encourage them to brush, and help them if necessary.

Children will mimic their parents. If they see you brush they'll want to do so, also. Two years of age isn't too young for some children.

Please send your questions about dental health to Dr. Lawrence in care of this paper. While he cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

Q—What can I do to force my boy, 5, to give up his pacifier? He won't go to bed without it.

A—I hope you don't do anything about it except give him T.L.C.—tender loving care. Most authorities say it's perfectly all right to use pacifiers as long as they are not sugar-coated, honey-dipped or filled with maple syrup. This can cause decay.

Pacifiers do not seem to cause irreparable harm, whereas forcibly depriving a child of this feeling of pleasure, comfort and security could produce worse habits, and much more serious problems.

Wants to Be Kissing Cousin

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
NEW YORK (AP) — "Are we kissing cousins?" Mayor John V. Lindsay asked pretty Joan Lindsay, an Irish airlines stewardess from Dublin.

"I'd certainly like to think so," replied the blue-eyed Miss Lindsay.

Miss Lindsay had come to City Hall Thursday to present Mayor Lindsay with a bowl of Shamrocks, a plaque bearing the coat of arms of the Lindsay clan and a flag of the city of Dublin.

The idea was to remind New Yorkers — as if they needed to be reminded — that today is St. Patrick's Day. The mayor told Miss Lindsay his mother was "part Irish, part Dutch."

On hand to photograph the occasion was another Lindsay — Associated Press photographer John C. Lindsay. Photographer Lindsay confessed that he had no Irish blood in his veins. He said his ancestors were Scottish.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The salaries of congressmen have changed an average of once every decade. Three times Congress has reduced its members' compensation—each time the economy was depressed, says The World Almanac. When George Washington was president, congressmen received $6 for each day of attendance plus $6 for each 20 miles of travel to and from sessions. Presently, they receive $30,000 plus travel and expense allowances.

WIN AT BRIDGE

When to Pre-empt At Four Level

The opening bid of four is even more pre-emptive than the bid of three. It also should be a substantially better hand. This is because, somehow or other, three-level pre-empt bids are seldom doubled while four-level pre-empt bids frequently are.

Thus when we open with a four bid we don't have 10 tricks in our own hand but we do have a hand that is almost surely going to make eight tricks by itself and that has some compensating values.

In first or second seat we would open four spades irrespective of vulnerability with: Spades—A K Q 10 8 7 6, H—2, D—Q J 10 2, C—2. We would not open four spades with: Spades—A K Q J 10 9 8, H—3 2, D—7 6, C—8 4.

The first hand is likely to make four spades if partner can give us one trick. The latter won't make four spades unless partner can give us three.

We have another rule for four-level pre-empt. We never have more than one ace and, if our partner has passed, we do not ever have solid trumps and a void suit.

Today's hand shows the advantage of this hard and fast rule. South had a normal four-spade opening. North looked over his big hand and decided

Len Chappell Back Haunting the Knicks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Len Chappell has come back to haunt the New York Knickerbockers.

Cast off by the Knicks in last summer's National Basketball Association expansion draft, Chappell drifted from the Chicago Bulls to the Cincinnati Royals, and until Thursday night he had done little to make the Knicks sorry about losing him.

His average of 3.5 points per game was hardly a factor as the Royals battled the Knicks for third place in the NBA's Eastern Division this season. But Thursday, with Cincinnati poised to clinch third place, Chappell came alive and poured in 16 points in the Royals' 114-111 victory over St. Louis.

In Thursday's other games, Boston put a deep dent in Detroit's playoff chances and whipped the Pistons 132-109, and San Francisco topped Philadelphia 145-131.

Chappell scored half of his points in the fourth period as he and Jerry Lucas combined to pace the Cincinnati attack. Lucas finished with 21 points and 22 rebounds. Paul Silas had 26 points for St. Louis.

The victory gave Cincinnati a 1½ game lead over the Knicks in the battle for third place. The best New York can do is tie the Royals but Cincinnati holds the edge in the season's series between the two clubs and will be awarded third place should the teams finish in a tie.

The Pistons fell a full game behind Chicago in the Western Division's battle for fourth place and the final playoff berth by losing to Boston. Both Detroit and Chicago have two games remaining.

Bailey Howell scored 37 points for the Celtics, who led by as many as 32 points. Wayne High-tower's 18 led the Pistons, who played without injured Dave DeBusschere, their top rebounder and No. 2 scorer.

All seven players used by San Francisco, the Western Division winner, scored in double figures, led by Jeff Mullins, with 31 points, and Rick Barry, with 29. Hal Greer scored 23 and Chet Walker 22 for Philadelphia, winner in the East.

Was Right Place to Give Cash Away

WASHINGTON (AP)—An 87-year-old bachelor walked into Children's Hospital and asked if he was in the right place to give away money.

Assured that he was, Rienzi B. Lemus turned over a check for $5,000. He said it represented half of his savings.

"I always wanted to send (the hospital) a little change," he said. "It was getting time to straighten things out. I'm getting old, and I figured I'd better do it now."

Princess and Prince Engaged

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—Princess Benedikte wore today an engagement ring given her by German Prince Richard zu Sayn-Wittgenstein. Only an official announcement was lacking.

The 23-year-old princess posed for photographers Tuesday at Amalienborg Palace with the 32-year-old prince.

Vince Edwards Seeks Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Vince Edwards is seeking to have his ex-wife, actress Kathy Kersh, punished for contempt of court.

In a document filed in Superior Court Tuesday, Edwards said Miss Kersh makes it inconvenient for him to visit their 14-month-old daughter, Devara.

Edwards, 37, said that last Sunday, after giving 24 hours' notice as required by the court, he telephoned his ex-wife and said he was coming to visit Devara.

According to Edwards, Miss Kersh told him: "I have made other plans. The world does not revolve around you."

STICKING HIS NECK OUT

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Don Sullivan, who referees high school basketball games, was preparing to read a speech at a recent meeting.

Sullivan reached into his pocket and produced a pair of glasses he never wears when working a game.

"I only use these," he explained, "when I want to see something."

Basketball Players in Grid Draft

By ED SCHUYLER JR. Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP)—On the final day of the first combined draft by the National and American football leagues such stars as Jimmy Walker, Pat Riley and George Carter were picked.

If you say these three were basketball stars in college, you're right.

And if you also say such pro football players as All-NFL defensive back Cornell Green of Dallas played basketball instead of football in college, you're right again.

So, following the formula which has proved so successful in the cases of players like Green and his Dallas teammate Pete Gent, the pros selected Walker and several other basketball standouts Wednesday.

Walker, the All-America from Providence which fields no football team, was taken by New Orleans on the last pick of the 17th and final round.

The 25 NFL-AFL clubs drafted 262 players in the final 12 rounds after picking 133 Tuesday in the first five rounds.

Some college stars, strictly in football, drafted Wednesday included quarterback Terry Southern of Baylor, by Baltimore in the sixth round; quarterback Virgil Carter of Brigham Young, by Chicago in the sixth; Tulsa tackle Don Bandy by Washington in the sixth, and All-America defensive back Tom Beler of Miami, Fla. by Miami in the 10th.

One player also was signed—San Diego's first round pick, defensive tackle Ronald Billingsley of Wyoming.

Riley, the backcourt star from Kentucky, was selected by Dallas in the 11th round. Carter, the scoring star of St. Bonaventure, another school which shuns football, was picked in the 13th by Buffalo.

Walker was chosen as an end, Riley as a quarterback and Carter as a halfback.

Another well-known basketball player, big David Lattin of defending national champion Texas Western, was picked in the final round by Kansas City. However, Lattin is only a junior, and his selection undoubtedly will be voided.

Beginning with this year, there no longer is a future, or redshirt, draft.

Basketball wasn't the only other sport looked at in the search for talent, the world of track and field also was invaded.

Randy Matson of Texas A&M the world record holder in the shotput, was taken as a defensive tackle by Atlanta in the fifth round, and Tommie Smith of San Jose State, the world record holder in the 220-yard dash, was picked as a halfback by Los Angeles in the ninth round.

Mrs. Henry C. Phipps and her son Ogden have nominated 14 colts for Monmouth Park's Sapling to be run next summer.

The Los Angeles Lakers have played 77 NBA playoff games in seven years and Rudy LaRusso has played in all of them.

Naturally, Ron wouldn't

NO REST for the weary—and Ron Widby of the University of Tennessee. Ron was the leading punter in the nation last fall. This winter, he's the leading scorer for the Southeastern Conference basketball champions.

Home Next Stop for All-Around Widby

By SANDY PADWE Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—(NEA)—This spring, Ron Widby intends to become a family man.

That means no baseball, and golf strictly for pleasure.

It also means Joan Widby will be able to see her husband for a change.

Ron is one of the greatest all-around athletes in the history of the University of Tennessee. In June, he will leave the university with a degree in physical education and eight varsity letters.

Last fall, he was the leading punter in the country with a 43.83 average. This winter, Ron, an all-Southeastern Conference selection, averaged 22.2 points per game while leading Tennessee into the NCAA basketball tournament.

As a sophomore, Ron wound up the year by hitting .300 for the baseball team. Then, last spring, he switched to golf and had a 75 average for the season.

"I'll probably miss baseball and golf this spring," Ron said, "but just being around the house for a change will be fine."

In addition to being the NCAA's punting leader and one of its leading scorers in basketball, Ron also holds the unofficial record for most miles traveled.

The last two years have been extremely difficult for him because the Tennessee football team was good enough to earn invitations to bowl games—at the same time the basketball team was playing in Christmas tournaments.

Naturally, Ron wouldn't

miss either. In 1965, the basketball team was scheduled for the Gulf South Classic in Shreveport, La., the same weekend the football team was playing Tulsa in the Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston.

"After the game in Shreveport Friday night," Ron said, "I went to the airport and plane to Houston. Then, the football game Saturday afternoon, I flew right back to Shreveport for the finals."

Tennessee won the Bluebonnet Bowl and the Gulf South Classic that weekend. Ron set a punting record in the Bluebonnet Bowl and was most valuable player in the basketball tournament.

He went through a similar performance this season. The Tennessee basketball team was scheduled for the Sugar Bowl tournament Dec. 29-30 in New Orleans and the football team for the Gator Bowl against Syracuse in Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 31.

"We finished the basketball tournament on Friday night," Ron said, "and then my wife and I flew in the university plane to Jacksonville."

"We got there at 1:30 a.m. and the game was at 12 noon. I had a good game against Syracuse, though. Floyd Little didn't have much punt return yardage."

Combining the two sports wasn't a new experience. "I've always practiced in both sports," Ron said. "My football workouts usually are 30 minutes or so. Then I'd go to basketball. But this year it was different. The basketball team practiced at night. I sure cut down my studying and family time."

As for the future, Ron favors a football career. "But," he says, "I'll have to see if I get any pro basketball offers. Maybe with two leagues now, there will be higher bidding. I still think I have a better future in football."

The choice doesn't matter that much to Joan Widby. It will be a pleasure to finally cook dinner for two each evening.

METS SET SOME RECORDS NEW YORK (AP)—In compiling their best won-lost mark in their five-year history, the New York Mets set 12 club records and six individual marks.

ON THE MOVE is unbeaten heavyweight contender Joe Frazier of Philadelphia. Joe's latest victim was Doug Jones, a 6th round knock-out victim.

San Francisco Giants

By SANDY PADWE Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

PITCHING—Everyone is wondering if Gaylord Perry is a genuine star or just a one-year phenom. Perry won 21, lost 8 last season. Last month of season was his worst. Giants desperately need a repeat from him. Juan Marichal (25-6) can be counted on for between 20 and 25 wins. Ray Sadecki, a former 20-game winner, was 5-8 last season. Bob Bolin had fair year (11-10, 2.89 ERA). Mike McCormick, originally property of Giants, learned to pitch in AL so Chub Feeney brought him back. A lefty starter, he'll help Joe Gibbon, Ron Herbel, both disappointing last year, spot starters. Lindy McDaniel (10-5, 2.66), Frank Linzy (7-11, 2.97) good bullpen. Dick Sparks, Rich Robertson had good minor league years in '66. Will get chance during training. RATING—B.

INFIELD—First baseman Willie McCovey had typical year in '66 (295, 36 HR, 96 RBI). Hal Lanier (.231), at second, Tito Fuentes (.261), shortstop, fair but not exceptional as double-play duo. Believe it or not, Jim Ray Hart (285, 33 HR, 93 RBI) is going to have a battle to keep third base job from rookie Bob Etheridge. RATING—B.

OUTFIELD—Jesus Alou (.259), once was best of the Alou brothers. In that family war, he's slipped to third. Willie Mays, who said he would rest more last season, played 152 games. Average a little lower than usual (.288) but HR production (37), RBI (103) didn't drop. Ollie Brown (.233) was the third outfielder last season. Ken Henderson, Frank Johnson, highly regarded rookies, will make him fight for his job this year. RATING—B.

CATCHING—Tom Haller's average only, 240 but still one of best catchers around. Had 27 HR, 67 RBI last season. Three youngsters, Bob Burton, Dick Doitz, Jack Hatt all had chance last year. Two may stick. RATING—B.

BENCH—Norm Siebern a good pinchrunner, can also play first if McCovey has to go to outfield. Jim Davenport can play every infield position. Another good man to have as a pinchhitter. Siebern's the lefty, Davenport the right-hander. Don Mason struck with club last year as utility infielder. May go to minors this year. RATING—B.

SUMMARY—Pitching is the question. Marichal, McDaniel, Perry, Bolin the steadiest on staff. But can Perry have that big year again? Keystone combo could be stronger. Otherwise, plenty of power. Good subs. PREDICTION—Don't think Perry can repeat, 3RD

Gaylord Perry

Between You'n' Me

By MURRAY OLDERMAN Sports Editor Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

CASA GRANDE, Ariz.—(NEA)—Gaylord Perry, who won 21 games for the San Francisco Giants, could envy Jim Bunning, who won 19 games last summer for the Philadelphia Phillies. After all, Bunning makes $80,000 a year for pitching, and Gaylord doesn't make half that.

It doesn't bother Gaylord, a slow-talking North Carolinian who walks with the strut of the hill country and has a lean, hollow face that would make good Abe Lincoln casting. Gaylord figures he'll get what's coming to him in time.

"Bunning was a 19-game winner three years in a row," says the tall righthander. "I would surely say if I can win 20 the next two or three years, they will take care of me with the right kind of contract."

At 28, going into his 10th year of professional baseball, Gaylord has learned the value of patience. He has been under the surveillance of the Giants all that time, after getting a bonus estimated at $100,000, and until last summer he was just another body on the roster. Over a period of four seasons with the Giants, he had won 24 games and lost 30 with a team that was always challenging for the National League pennant.

So it's a revelation to him to come into this baseball complex that shoots right up out of the sagebrush and cactus 50 miles south of Phoenix and find himself regarded as something special.

The osmosis is traceable to a day in Chicago last April. The Giants were into their 10th game of the season, and Gaylord hadn't pulled his dark blue blazer off yet. Coach Larry Jansen had him in the bullpen for relief work, an assignment Gaylord has never relished.

The Giants needed him that April day in Chicago, and Perry won the game. Four days later, he started in Houston and won again. He kept winning—12 and 1 at the All-Star break, where Gaylord made the National League squad and won the game, 20 and 2 in late August, finally 21-8 after a September slump and a couple of tough 2-0, 2-1 losses. Pitching coach Jansen wasn't surprised.

"Gaylord," he says, "always had a real good fast ball and a curve. But he needed another pitch. Two's not enough in the majors. So for a couple of years we'd been working on a hard slider. Suddenly last spring it came to him."

"Jansen used this pitch when he threw for the New York Giants," adds Perry. "It's pretty much as fast as a fast ball, but it breaks six to 10 inches. If you can control it, you can set up a hitter real good and especially use it in the tight spots."

Jansen points out that it also increases the effectiveness of his basic staples—the fast ball and curve. Perry's fast ball breaks in on a righthand batter; the hard slider breaks out. The hitter can't anticipate.

Because Gaylord also tugs at the peak of his cap, wets his lips, yanks at his belt and goes through a jerky routine, National League batters suspect he occasionally gets some saliva on the ball, too.

"I want them to think it," grins Gaylord. "It gives me another pitch they think they have to look for." Not confessing, of course, they ever see it.

"I'm doing all right," he says, securely, "with what I've got." All Gaylord wants out of baseball is to maintain his status quo as a starter. "I believe seriously I'll last longer," he explains. "You've got three days to relax, to get your thoughts together. I know I'm going to have time to run, time to rest, time to plan and think ahead to the next game."

"When I was a relief pitcher, I couldn't stay in as good shape. I might work four days in a row, or I might not work at all for four days. But I couldn't get my running in because I didn't know for sure when they were going to need me. When you're a relief pitcher, you're subject to being called every day. On some days, you're not real good, so you let the club down."

As a 21-game winner, Gaylord isn't looking for a letdown.

GAYLORD PERRY of the San Francisco Giants was a 21-game winner last season. The Giants will need a repeat performance this year from the righthander, whose form looks almost perfect.

Doubles on TV

ATHENS, OHIO—(NEA)—Al Albert had to do something to gain a little attention.

Al is the second-string goalie for the Ohio University hockey team. And no one is really shattering any speed records getting to Athens to find out about the No. 1 goalie.

So Al Albert, a junior from Brooklyn, N.Y., majoring in radio-television, does the play-by-play of the Ohio U. games. Certainly more people listen to him than watch him play.

Broadcasting hockey is more than a way to pass time. Al's brother, Marv, is the play-by-play announcer for the New York Rangers.

"It's a good deal for me," Al said. "I gain a lot of experience while otherwise I would just be spending time on the bench."

He's going to need a substitute for Al.

It's Hard to Be Young—Especially With the Grownup Remarks

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Parental remarks that teenagers get tired of hearing:

"When I was your age, I knew the value of a dollar."

"For heaven's sake, Arnold, can't you even stand up straight? Maybe we'll have to get a board and prop you up like a tomato plant."

"I'm warning you for the last time that..."

"You're not going out of the house dressed like that, young lady, so you might as well take it off right now."

"Wait until your father gets home, young man. He'll hear about your behavior."

"From the size of this month's phone bill, Susan, I can only suspect you've been making long distance calls to the man in the moon."

"When I was your age, I walked three miles to school and thought nothing of it."

"You can have a car of your own anytime you want to, Arnold. All you have to do is get it the same way I got mine — by going out and earning it."

"Look at it this way, Susie — for every candy bar you eat now, sooner or later you'll get another pimple."

"What kind of college do you think will accept you with grades like these?"

"This will make you laugh, dear. Arnold said he has decided to grow a beard, and when I asked him, 'what with?' he got mad."

"When I was your age, I never spoke like that to my parents. Why, I wouldn't have dared!"

"All kids are spoiled today — every last one of them."

"Your teeth are coming along just fine, Susan. But I think we'll have to leave these braces on for another few months at least."

"I could feed half of starving India with the food that girl leaves untouched on her plate."

"The only reason I can figure why teen-agers spend so much time on the phone is that they don't mind talking to each other — but can't stand looking at each other."

"Don't you think it is high time, young man, that you started to make up your mind what you want to do with your life?"

"When I was your age, I didn't expect anyone to hand me out an allowance."

"When I was your age... when I was your age... when I was your age..."

Russo told the three-judge Criminal District Court Tuesday that he heard Shaw, Lee Harvey Oswald and David W. Ferrie talking in September 1963 of how to kill President Kennedy.

Alvin Oser, an assistant to Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison, began questioning Chetta about details of Russo's comments while under hypnosis. The defense objected.

Lynda Bird Rides in and Old Car
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
NEW YORK (AP) — Lynda Bird Johnson stepped out of a 1931 vintage Cadillac and was greeted by actor Henry Fonda, who played the role of doorman at the Sutton Theater Wednesday night.

The event was the New York premier of Charlie Chaplin's movie, "A Countess From Hong Kong."

Vintage cars of the 1920s and early 1930s, used to recreate the Chaplin era, pulled up to the entrance of the Sutton Theater and disgorged celebrities attending the charity benefit for Research to Prevent Blindness, Inc.

Brando returned from a five-day tour of the eastern India state Thursday. He said nobody outside Bihar could imagine the condition of its inhabitants.

Dodd Vows Conscience Is Clear

Milk Dealers Vision No Shortage

Milk dealers saw no shortage of consumer dairy product supplies today despite milk dumping by some dairymen in support of a National Farmers Organization price protest.

Thousands of gallons of milk swirled down drains Thursday in a 25-state holding action called by the NFO. Some dealers were picketed.

Oren Lee Staley, NFO president, said Thursday night, "NFO members are giving tremendous support to the milk holding action and it's gratifying that nonmembers are joining in the only way to fight low farm prices."

But a spokesman for the New Jersey Milk Industry Association, Inc., representing 75 per cent of that state's dealers, said most farmers made their deliveries and he saw "no threat to supplies for consumers."

The NFO campaign is aimed at forcing buyers to pay farmers two cents more a quart. Prices paid farmers in the affected area — ranging from New York to Idaho and from Canada to Florida — are now 8 to 10 cents a quart.

Staley said at Corning, Iowa, reports received at NFO headquarters indicated "we are cutting into the available milk supply." He said "the action is going to be much tighter in the hours ahead."

The Pure Milk Association estimated the flow of milk from farms in its Illinois, Wisconsin and northern Indiana area was down 15 per cent.

Harold Cope, the PMA marketing director, said it could be "substantially worse" today depending upon whether unaffiliated farmers decide to go along with the NFO. He said there was no effect in the Chicago market yet with dealers reporting stocks sufficient for two or three days.

He stiffened with anger when Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., recalled O'Hare's Wednesday testimony about money orders.

"I never knew about any money orders," Dodd declared, "I never bought one in my life."

$791 Million Frozen Funds Are Released
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson released today $791 million more in frozen federal funds because, he said, "inflationary pressures have subsided."

The released funds are $350 million for the federal-aid highway system, $250 million for special mortgage assistance for low-cost housing, $71 million for Farmers Home Administration loans, $90 million for Army Corps of Engineers projects, including local flood protection, and $30 million for grants under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

These were part of about $5.2 billion in funds for federal programs which were deferred last fall as part of a plan to combat inflation.

Today's action will result in increasing federal spending about $105 million in the 1967 fiscal year closing June 30, with the remainder to be spent later.

Two Planes Downed, U.S. Ship Hit

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON (AP) — Two American planes were downed and a Navy destroyer was hit by Communist coastal gunfire off North Vietnam Friday as the war in both North and South Vietnam assumed new intensity, the U.S. military command reported today.

The destroyer Stoddard took a hole in her side above the waterline as she patrolled along the southern end of North Vietnam 25 miles northwest of Dong Hoi. There were no casualties, a spokesman said, and the ship continued "fully operational."

One of the downed planes was a propeller-driven Navy Skyraider, which was shot down over North Vietnam Friday, making it the 488th announced plane lost over the North. The pilot was rescued.

The U.S. Command reported scattered ground fighting throughout South Vietnam with the heaviest skirmishes in the central highlands. American planes continued bombing raids over North Vietnam, despite heavy weather.

In other developments, the U.S. mission in Saigon today officially pinpointed North Vietnamese Gen. Nguyen Chi Thanh as the leader of all Communist forces in South Vietnam. Thanh also holds top posts in the political and military councils of the Hanoi government.

Humphrey Hurts Wrist in a Fall
WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey injured his right wrist in a fall on a wet floor Thursday night. He was wearing a cast today.

Norman Sherman, press aide, said a bone was chipped and Dr. George Burkley, White House physician, put on the cast early today.

"His wrist will be in a cast for several weeks," Sherman said. Asked if this will interfere with Humphrey's busy schedule of speeches and public appearances, Sherman quipped: "It was his wrist, not his tongue."

Sherman said the vice president worked at his office until about midnight and when he got home the entrance to his apartment building was being mopped. Humphrey lost footing and the wrist was injured when he put out a hand to break the fall.

Low Air Fare Boosts U.S. Travel Abroad
NEW YORK (AP) — Tourists planning summer trips to Europe under the new lower air fares are boosting business for travel agents and airlines.

Two million Americans are expected to travel to Europe this year, up from 1.6 million in 1966.

"We're completely booked until September," said Henry P. Huff, executive vice president of Trans International Airlines, an Oakland, Calif., supplemental carrier.

Trans International has scheduled more than 200 charter flights to Europe from San Francisco, Los Angeles, Chicago, St. Louis, Columbus, New York, Boston and other cities this summer, Huff said. Business is up 25 per cent over 1966.

British Overseas Airways Corp. said its New York reservations department has been swamped with calls. BOAC is offering 30 itineraries with room for 25,000 to 30,000 travellers.

Trans World Airlines reports advance bookings for June are up 5.5 per cent from 1966. It is offering more than 250 tours.

American Express reports its European tour bookings are up 25 to 30 per cent over last year and attributes about half the increase to the lower fares.

"Mostly they are people who wouldn't have gone before," said an American Express spokesman. "But now the word is out—if you plan to spend $600 or $700 on a vacation, you can go to Europe just as well."

GM Donates Car to Chief Critic
DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. is donating a car to carry Ralph Nader around Detroit, despite Nader's criticism of GM, and his book, "Unsafe At Any Speed," which spurred new federal auto-safety standards.

Nader will be in the motor city to speak at the University of Detroit's engineering college. Engineering students, admitting they were too "chicken" to call an auto maker and ask for a courtesy car for their speaker, wrote to a problem-solving column in the Detroit Free Press.

The newspaper made the call and got a car "complete with safety stuff like shoulder harnesses, head restraints, disc brakes, traffic hazard flasher switch, freeway lane-changer signal, padded instrument panel and energy-absorbing steering column."

Today, the Hope Lions Club Is 20 Years Old, Plan Special Program

By MARY ANITA LASETER
Star Feature Writer

Today, the Hope Lions Club is 20 years old. It was chartered on this date in 1947 by the sponsoring Texarkana Lions Club.

Next Monday, March 20 several members of the Texarkana club will present a special program commemorating 20 years of community service by the Hope club.

Some Lions who were here for the original charter night will be back for the 20th anniversary.

Over the years the local club has been active in civic and charitable affairs. Since Lions over the world aid the blind or visually handicapped, one of the prime functions of the Hope Lions has been to aid locally and statewide on this matter through the sale of brooms and light bulbs. Dr. Don Free is continuing the dedication of this project which the late Dr. Harold Brents began.

There are four members of the club who were among the original 27 who signed the charter in 1947. They are Andy Andrews, Frank King, Miles Laha, and W. L. Tate.

Other charter members were: N. D. Broach, J. T. Byers, Ural E. Cloud, Eddy J. Craine, Fred Duncan, W. L. Elam, Dorsey Fuller, Martin A. Gehling, William C. Gentry, Foy H. Hammons, Byron D. Heiner, W. R. Herndon, W. A. Jeans, Claude D. Lauterbach, Webb Laseter, Jr., Rae M. Luck, J. Fletcher Reed, Paul Rettig, Leo Robbins, H. A. Shields, S. Jerome Smith, Herbert Whitehead and Charles Wylie.

Numerous projects by the Hope Lions Club have included: staging a play in the fall of 1947, selling street signs in '48, having annual light bulb and broom sales beginning in 1949, starting annual Christmas auctions on KXAR in 1950, helping air condition the Youth Center in '58, and constructing a Boy Scout building in Fair Park in '64.

The cost of the above-mentioned activities has been large, but the benefits to the citizens of this community have been even greater. The Hope Lions Club has been sending a boy or a girl to Boys State or Girls State for many years, sponsors a Little League team each year, cooks the chicken for the Poultry Festival, pays for part of the Kidie Korral at Fair Park and makes a large contribution toward football equipment for the football Little Leagues. The Lions Club administered the James Anderson Fund and supplemented it with funds of their own to aid several persons who had medical expenses they could not meet.

Civic-minded Lions were President of the Chamber of Commerce for four consecutive years: Haskell Jones, 1963; Bill Gunter, 1964; Gene White, 1965; and W. L. Tate, 1966. They have also provided two chairmen for the Poultry Festival: James Morrow, 1961; and Haskell Jones, 1962.

The club won the District Governors' Contest in 1963-64 and scored the most points any club has ever recorded in the event. It has chartered two clubs: Washington, in 1964; and Emmet, in 1966.

Hope Lions Club Presidents during the 20 years the club has existed include: Rae Luck, '46-'47; Foy Hammons, '47-'48; Frank King, '48-'49; Ben Owen, '49-'50; John Wilson, '50-'51; Bob Daniels, '51-'52; Harold Brents, '52-'53; Bill Gentry, '53-'54; Kinard Young, '54-'55; Cecil O'Steen, '55-'56; Bill Routon, '56-'57.

Panel Indicts Clay Shaw for Murder

By BEN THOMAS
NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — A three-judge panel ruled in a preliminary hearing Friday that wealthy retired business leader Clay L. Shaw should become the first man to stand trial concerning the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

In ordering the trial for Shaw on a charge of conspiracy to murder the president, Judge Bernard J. Bagert said at the conclusion of the four-day hearing, "This court finds sufficient evidence has been presented to establish probable cause that a crime has been committed."

The ruling came on Shaw's 54th birthday.

The decision was a first-round victory for gun-toting Jim Garrison, this town's 6-foot-6 district attorney. Garrison started the world a month ago with a statement that he had "solved" the Kennedy assassination, would make arrests, and would obtain convictions.

Garrison, unorthodox and controversial in his five years as district attorney, took an unusual step in asking for the preliminary hearing — a tactic usually resorted to by defense lawyers.

The next step: "I will file a bill of information," Garrison drew to newsmen shortly after the panel announced its unanimous decision. He would not say when the action would be taken.

Arraignment and trial came afterward. No dates were set.

"The district attorney selects the date and time a person will be tried," said Judge Bagert, who had asked two of his fellow Criminal District Court judges to sit with him at the preliminary hearing because of its importance.

"The state has six years to prove this case," said defense attorney William Wegmann, in his impassioned plea to the court to throw out the charges.

Prison Crops Under New Management
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The State Penitentiary Board has given the Jacob Hartz Seed Co. of Stuttgart a contract for management of the rice and soybean crops at Tucker Prison Farm.

The contract gives Hartz direction over Tucker's total rice allotment and 900 acres of soybeans. In return Hartz will receive eight per cent of the gross receipts from the rice crop and ten per cent of the gross receipts from the soybean crop.

Sidney Kegeles, state purchasing agent, said the contract was an emergency agreement because of the nearness of the planting season. He said the state also bought $23,437 in tractors, plows and other equipment for Tucker's farming operations.

Kegeles said there was no similar arrangement for the management of the rice and soybean crops at Cummins Prison Farm, although there are contracts for such crops as pickles, tomatoes and strawberries.

Kegeles said that the soybean production of the combined Cummins-Tucker operations in 1966 was worth $203,603 and the rice was valued at $369,695 last year.

Prison personnel and equipment will still be used although Hartz will manage the farming operations.

The contract will continue through 1968 and succeeding years unless one party or the other terminates the contract before Dec. 1 this year.

Under the contract, the Penitentiary Board has authority over storing, drying and selling the rice and soybeans grown at Tucker.

Lonoke County Outstanding
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office for Lonoke County was chosen Thursday night as the outstanding county office in the state for 1966.

A. C. Mowery Jr., state ASCS executive officer, said that the selection was made by the staff of the state office and the district fieldmen.

70 Bills Are Signed by WR
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Seventy bills were signed into law Thursday by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller.

Most of those signed Thursday were budget bills.
